TREASURING NATURE

“The best results will be obtained when teachers are able to integrate learning in the natural environment ”

In an increasingly urbanised world of today where television, computers dominate and playground areas are receding, many children do not have the opportunity to enjoy playing in nature and are disconnected with nature. The present generation is glued to the virtual world and are lacking a basic knowledge of biodiversity and awareness of its importance.

Frequent, positive early childhood experiences with nature can have a major impact on the healthy growth of a child’s mind, body and spirit. Hands-on, informal, self-initiated exploration and discovery in local, familiar environments are often described as the best ways to engage and inspire children and cultivate a sense of place and a sense of wonder.

Nature is god’s gift and we should not only enjoy it but also preserve it for the next generations. By exploiting it beyond a reasonable point, we are becoming instrumental in our own downfall. Our education system should emphasize the importance of connecting with nature by the children and instill in them the knowledge about value of nature and conserving nature in their own interest.

Today, kids at JHPS should be aware of the global threats to the environment, and with their physical contact, their intimacy with nature, should transform themselves into a future generation of environmental champions.

'Education is the most powerful weapon which you can use to change the world'.

- Nelson Mandela

Today, the role of a school is not only to pursue academic excellence but also to motivate and empower its students to be lifelong learners, critical thinkers, and productive members of an ever-changing global society.

As a dynamic and progressive educational institution, we at JHPS provide collaborative, cooperative and supportive environment to foster innovation as well as support teaching practices which are not only stimulating and conducive for learning but also ensure that students grow up into autonomous individuals with deep rooted value system. These values bring out responsibility of students towards nature.

Over the last few years people have become ignorant about the problems connected with the depletion of natural resources. This requires not only the earliest possible remedial action but also a long term effort which must necessarily involve education to have a deep and lasting impact.

Our aim is not just limited to make students aware but through them we want to spread it to the society. We invite the parents to join hands with us in this endeavour to prepare our students to face the challenges of life and make our earth a much more resourceful place to live.

Nature – The Nurturer

The awe inspiring marvel of nature with its intricate designs cannot but leave us speechless. The Earth is meant to be enjoyed by its inhabitants. That includes keeping it safe and pristine for posterity.

Nature is a nurturer who looks after us and provides for all our wants, but if we do not respect Nature, its fury cannot be contained. The various natural calamities are proof of this.

We at Jubilee Hills Public School do a lot to create sensitive children who will look after the well being of Nature. Children are a part of the Vanamahotsav Celebrations and Tree Planting Drive to help them become responsible and accountable for Nature. At our Rampally Branch we have an organic farm that students nurture and grow. This experiential learning gives student's not only the joy of planting, nurturing and taking the yield from the crops, but also understand the hardships faced by farmers. This also makes them aware of the value of food and teaches them not to waste it.

This issue of Hillside Magazine is an initiative to create awareness among the readers about the importance of Nature. It will definitely make us contemplate and make the necessary changes in our lifestyle to protect and preserve Nature.

A BOON IRREPLACEABLE

Nature - A gift to cherish

Look deep into nature, and then you will understand everything better.

-Albert Einstein

Nature is the most beautiful creation of God. It is eternal and provides shelter to all the living creatures on Earth. Human beings are born in the lap of nature and blend with it.

Nature makes life colourful. Nature is a home for all and gives everything it can to serve and never asks for anything in return. It is the best teacher and source of inspiration to all. Nature surrenders its life to serve others. Without it life is beyond imagination

Nature has nurtured us carefully from the beginning of life and has made the world what it is today. It is time to repay her for whatever it has done today, as we are alive and thriving thanks to nature.

One must realize how important nature is for us. Our ancestors cherished nature and lived in harmony with it. But today, all of us are turning to technology and development. One has become blind to the beauty of nature and has ignored it. But it is not too late to correct one's attitude.

Nature is the guardian of the ecosystem. We must show our gratitude and be kind towards nature. Let us join hands and strive to cherish, admire and take care of nature, as she does every day. Let us put mother nature on a pedestal and treat her like the queen she really is. That is what nature really deserves from us.

Environment conservation- Not just a necessity but a responsibility

"If you love a tree, you will be more beautiful than before!"

- Amit Ray

Environment conservation is a very important topic today. Mother nature is suffering, and it is our job to save her. As the topic says, environment conservation and its protection are not just a necessity; it is also a huge responsibility. Environment conservation is an essential part of human philosophy.

These days, there are a lot of threats to the environment. These include climate change caused by green house gases, air and water pollution, deforestation, and more. Because of so many serious environmental threats, Earth is changing. Human beings have brought this change upon the Earth, and it is our duty to stop it.

The word 'environment' evokes images of pristine oceans, lakes and forests populated by diverse varieties of fish, animals and plants, but it also reminds us of polluted air, dirty water, dead fish, fossil-fuelled agriculture and slums. This is the result of our actions on the environment.

We have misused and exploited almost everything given to us by nature. Is this how the future generations are going to live under the influence of harmful gases and in a polluted environment? To correct ourselves, let us take personal initiatives to improve the environment.

Spreading awareness to bring a change

"In every walk with nature one receives more than one seeks" gifts of nature? But increasing pollution levels and carelessness towards nature is making even the ordinary things seem impossible.

Spreading awareness about nature conservation will help unite the nation as one against the malpractices on the environment. Shaping thoughts to provoke determination for environment conservation is the key to our needs. Supporting initiatives planned by the government and NGOs and sharing thoughts regarding nature protection are few small ways that can help to cause a big impact.

Every one can contribute to bring changes on this planet. Joining and participating in nature clubs and bringing awareness among near and dear ones also can help in this cause.

Use your voice as a weapon to destroy the evils against nature. Utilise your thoughts and give power to your words. Spread awareness not just by attending public events but also sharing your thoughts. Unleash your imagination. Write, draw and recite to bring the world under your spell of magic.

Joy in looking and comprehending is nature's most beautiful gift

– Albert Einstein

India is one of the most diverse countries of the world. It is known for its rich cultural heritage and wide spectrum of traditions and values. Every Indian takes pride in the country's beauty and development. As citizens of the country it is our responsibility to give our best efforts in giving the country a healthy platform to grow upon.

We decide what we will see the society like in the future. Humans play a major role in the functioning of the ecosystem. If we destroy nature today, we are endangering life tomorrow.

Small steps toward environment protection-prevention is better than cure

The winds will blow their own freshness and the storms their energy, while cares will drop off like Autumn leaves

– John Muir

SAVE THE EARTH

The society where we live and grow affects our life in many aspects. The people around us affect our thoughts and so does the environment. Growing up in an environment that is polluted and unclean will also affect the lifestyle of a person. The bright morning sky, the sound of the rustling trees, wind gushing through the air don't we cherish such Endless tiny droplets make an ocean. A little hard work can help bring a big change. If we start thinking wisely regarding nature from today maybe we can reduce the damage that can be caused tomorrow. Starting from homes we can start using ways to consume energy and protect nature.

Initiatives taken up to conserve the environment

Fourteen biosphere reserves have been set up in the country to protect flora and fauna. The Sunderbans, Nanda Devi, Gulf of Mannar and the Nilgiris have been included in the world network of biosphere reserves. Financial and technical assistance is provided to Botanical gardens by the government. The government has also taken up measures to spread awareness about environment protection. Programmes such as Vanamahotsav and Haritha Haram are appreciated by the people.

The World Wide Fund and the Wildlife Protection Society of India are examples of Non-governmental organizations that work for environmental welfare.

JHPians's journey with nature

Nature plays an important role in everybody's life. It shapes our thoughts and gives wings to our imagination. To inculcate the values revolving around nature conservation and importance of loving trees the school has been benevolent to give students the proper opportunities. The school premises is adorned with beautiful trees and plants. Proper care is taken of the greenery by the students and the school management.

Spreading awareness about the subject of nature conservation is a topic of great importance. Keeping this in mind, vanamahotsav is celebrated annually to create awareness amongst the students and cherish the gifts of nature Haritha Haram, an event to celebrate nature and spread awareness about its conservation was held on 22nd July, 2016. Eminent personalities from various industries joined hands with the students to promote a green and clean society. Students of class VII recently visited Shilpakala vedika to witness a skit about Global warming. It was an eye opener for all of the students and motivated them to conserve nature.

These activities bring the students closer to nature and envelope them in a bond that will stay strong forever. Plants grow according to the care and nourishment given to them. In the same way, a person's character depends on the values imbibed in the person since the beginning. With determination and a spirit to achieve, the students hold hands to stand together in this journey. We hope that the future is brighter and greener for the future generations to come.

- Every moment of my school life has been wonderful. But I fondly remember the moment when I was elected as the junior head girl in 4th class. I was elated and jumped with joy. I also fondly remember each and every time I was given a chance to speak on the stage. Every time I performed, I learnt something new. The Academic Director, Ms. G. Sree Devi greeted the alumni, and thanked them for coming. She asked them to share their experiences with the students of secondary and to guide them in their career paths as they know the heights and the pitfalls of their profession.

In all, the ambience was electric, with alumni seen chatting and catching up with each other. They played games, danced and relived their school days. The meet ended with a promise to meet again next year and everyone bid an emotional farewell to each other.

Success Follows Hardwork

It is indeed a pleasure for JHPS to have many business men amongst the alumni. The students of the Hillside News had the opportunity to share a few minutes with Sri. M.V. Aditya of 1997 batch to gain inspiration from his life. He owns Aqua Industries.

➤ What was your source of inspiration to follow your dreams and reach success?

My source of inspiration was the Principal, Mr. Thomas J Kappen at that time and Director Sri. Satyanaryana who guided us in all aspects.

➤ Please share some special memories from JHPS?

One memory that is engraved in my mind is the way we played cricket in the ground during the lunch break. Friends and fights were part and parcel of daily schooling. This has really helped us to start understanding team work in my future endeavours.

➤ What are your thoughts after visiting the school after so many years and what do you think about the recent developments made in the school?

Really Happy☺, The school has grown by leaps and bounds from where it was both academically and in all extracurricular activities. I really liked the fact that still a huge ground is left free for students to play whereas in many schools it is lacking.

➤ How do you think the school and its values have helped you face challenges in life?

JHPS foundation really helped me academically to do well and also to face challenges in my first few jobs. I was able to work and coordinate with my colleagues because of the values that I have learnt in school.

➤ One piece of advice to the students that you would like to give?

One should give respect to elders and make your parents proud and be satisfied with what you do and believe in yourself.

Educational Field Trips - Interactive Learning

Educational field trips are important to help bridge the gap between education and hands-on experience. Students have an experience that they never could have had in the classroom. It also helps them to integrate with what they are learning. The experience goes beyond reading about a concept; students are able to see it, participate in it physically. Students are able to see elements with their eyes rather than reading about it and believing what they are told.

CLASS VI: Field Trip to Birla Planetarium

Then, we had a chance to go around the museum and observe the different artefacts, engineering wonders and projects.

Reminiscence of the Nizams – Class IX field Trip to Golconda Fort

The school organized an educational field trip for the students of class IX on 23rd December, 2017 to Golconda Fort. Golkonda was the capital of the medieval sultanate of the Qutub Shahi dynasty, located in the western part of the city of pearls. Even after almost 800 years, the fort stands strong as one of Hyderabad's greatest architectural wonders. The Golconda fort used to have a vault where once the famous Koh-I-Noor and hope diamonds were stored along with other jewels.

The fortress is built on a granite hill that is 400 metres long and has walls ranging from 17 to 34 feet broken by 87 semi-circular bastions, some reaching 60 feet in height. We also visited the Ram Das prison and Mahan Kali temple which is situated right next to the royal palace. The trip was informative for the students and gave them an opportunity to learn about the majestic architecture of our country in a practical manner.

The Chowmahalla Palace is a palace of the Nizams of Hyderabad state. It has four main palaces as the name itself suggests. It was the seat of the AsafJahi dynasty and was the official residence of the Nizams of Hyderabad while they ruled their state.

At the end of our exhilarating tour we had a photo session. From this field trip we learned about the Nizam's culture and architecture through the several displays we saw. We also learnt about the value of such historical monuments and about how it is important to preserve them properly.

A Day out - Visit for Rejuvenation

The staff and the sub staff of the school visited Lahari resorts near Patancheru on 10th February, 2018 to unwind and get rejuvenated.

The journey to the resort was a very enjoyable one. The exquisite scenery on the way to Patancheru and the scenic beauty of the resort made the experience more exquisite. The teachers were welcomed and all were very happy to greet each other and enjoyed exploring the surroundings by brisk walking, swimming, cycling, cricket and other indoor activities. The swimming pool and the rain dance added to the enthusiasm and excitement.

After the lunch, the teachers played outdoor games where they displayed the reminiscence of their student life antics. Finally after the evening tea and snacks they returned home with their mind refreshed and relaxed.

Ms. S. Rani from sub- staff retired in December, 2017. She had served the institution for 29 years. On behalf of the management a gift was presented to her as a token of appreciation for her valuable services extended to the students by taking care of them.

It was a day well spent and cherished by the JHPS team.
